Gentlemen who cannot attend the Sale may have their Commissions faithfully executed by their obedient Servants,

WHEATLEY AND ADLARD.

P R E F A C E.

IN submitting for Sale by Auction the Property to which this Catalogue refers, it may be considered needless to expatiate on the value and importance of such a collection, which, it may be affirmed, is equal, if not superior, to any other formed by an individual in this country. The acknowledged skill and ability of the late Mr. HEAVISIDE, and his extensive acquirements in the various branches of his profession, render any observations on those points quite superfluous. To many the contents of this highly interesting and valuable Museum are well known; but to those who have not been favored with an inspection, it may be only requisite to assure them that the whole of the subjects are prepared in the most scientific manner, and are all in an excellent state of preservation. As will be seen by reference to the Catalogue, the Collection consists of an immense variety of Natural and Morbid Preparations, particularly the latter; and among them will be found every part of the human body both male and female; adult and fœtal skeletons; skulls, &c.: Bones of every description, natural and morbid, showing the destructive ravages that the venereal and other diseases have on them: very beautiful and rare specimens of Comparative Anatomy and of Natural History; with a great variety of Monstrosities in the human and brute Creation: together with Models and Casts of every description.

The Collection is considerably enhanced by having a most complete descriptive Catalogue, made by Mr. HEAVISIDE himself, not, however, with the remotest idea of its being used for the purpose of sale, but as an accurate and faithful description of each preparation; there are also statements in his own writing of the various Cases to which he had attended, together with their Treatment, many of which are the identical subjects in this Museum : to the purchasers of such preparations, these statements, or copies of them, will be delivered.

The whole will be sold in the exact condition in which they were left by Mr. HEAVISIDE ; and, on this account, it has been deemed expedient not to alter or even reprint the Catalogue made by him. The “ Index to the Arrangement of the Sale,” which accompanies the Catalogue, points out the various articles in the order they will be sold, in some instances three or four preparations being put into one lot, where it is presumed their connexion with each other render it advisable not to separate them.

To Gentlemen who are in possession of the Descriptive Catalogue above alluded to, of which many copies were circulated during the lifetime of Mr. HEAVISIDE, the Index will prove a sufficient guide for the sale ; and for this purpose, a number of extra copies have been printed, which may be had separately, on application to

WHEATLEY AND ADLARD,

Auctioneers,
